WHAT WILL POPULISTS D ?

Will the Color of Men's Skins or Butler's Lash Lead Them?

From a lengthy letter in the Sunday Morning Post from Rev Baylus Cade, private secretary to Governor Russell, on the constitutional amendment, we copy the following extract:

"In this connection let us think about some facts of recent history.

"In 1896 the populists and republicans, acting together, carried the state. In 1898 the democrats refused all overtures for fusion with the populists, and went into the campaign upon the single issue of the negro. That issue enabled them to win and get back into power. It is not only necessary for a party to have an issue in order that it may win its way into power. It is also necessary for it to have an issue in order that it may stay in power when once it is there. The Democrats exercised great astuteness when they got into power by eliminating every question of national politics that was likely to embarrass them.

"This they did first of all, by separating the state and national elections Then, they argued, if we can arrange it so that in in future state campaigns we can select an issue that our antagonists will accept we can win out and perpetuate our power. They submitted the proposition to amend the Constitution, expecting and believing that he fusionists would accept the issue tendered, and thus fight again at an enormous disadvantage.

"Shall the populists be simple enough to accept the issue and incur the odium of being once more the champion of negro domination in North Carolina? Is it their purpose to do this thing, either by themselves or in association with any other party? If this is the purpose of the populist party, then it would seem that that party is altogether too young and innocent to take care of itself in a world like this; and should as soon as possible be turned over to some experienced and motherly wet-nurse, to be tenderly cared for till such time as it shall come to years of understanding."

HOT ROAST FOR BUTLER

From a Populist to Whom He Wrote For Information.

HE HAS BETRAYED HIS PARTY

J. J. Marshall, of Vienna, Tells the Senator He Cannot Lead Honest Populists.

The following is from the Morning Post, of Tuesday:

In today's Post an outraged populist replies to a letter to him from Senator Butler, asking for the names of democrats opposed to ballot-box stuffing.

Winston, N. C., Feb. 10—The following interesting and spicy letter from a populist to Senator Butler was shown to your correspondent, and he was permitted to make a copy for publication:

To Hon. Marion Butler:

Sir: I am in receipt of your circular letter, which has been, I presume, sent out to hundreds of other populists all over the state, and as I have somewhat to say thereon, I will call your attention to the full text of it which is as follows:

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22, 1900.
Mr. J. J. Marshall,
Chairman —— Township.

My Dear Sir: Please fill out and return to me as soon as you can the enclosed blanks.

On first blank (Form No. 1) give me the names and postoffice address of the democrats in your township who are opposed to ballot-box stuffing, and who are against the proposed disfranchising suffrage amendment, or who you think may vote against it if they should be convinced that section 5 is unconstitutional.

On the second blank (Form No. 2) give me the names and postoffice address of the populists and white republicans (indicating the politics of each after his name) who were fooled or frightened into voting the democratic ticket in the last election, or who stayed at home and did not vote. Put an "X" mark after the name of each of those who stayed at home.

In the blank place below on this sheet give me the names and addresses of six active and reliable populists in your township who will distribute literature and who can be relied on to assist you in other ways later. On the back of this sheet write any remarks or suggestions you can make.

Enclosed find a copy of my open letter on the amendment and the election law.

Trusting for an early reply, I am,
Yours very truly,
Marion Butler.

You ask, sir, that I send you the names of democrats in my township "who are opposed to ballot-box stuffing." I work for a living, and therefore have not the time to make out a roster of the democrats of my township. There may be some of them who are NOT opposed to ballot-box stuffing. Such men, perhaps, can be found in all parties, just as men can be found in all parties who are willing—aye eager—to sell their principles for office, and just as there are political leaders who do not hesitate to indulge in deals for office and dickers for place at the expense of those who have believed them to be sincere leaders, who, not content with selling their own birthright for a sorry mess of pottage, attempt to sell also the birthright of others.

There may be democrats who favor ballot-box stuffing in my township: if so, I do not know them. These men against whom you see fit to bring the insinuation conveyed in your letter are my neighbors. They have not stolen my property and I have no reason to believe they will attempt to steal my vote—or sell it.

You are not mistaken in addressing me as a populist. I am a populist from principle. Therefore I am tired of seeing my party given over at every election into the arms of that party which is most radically opposed to every plank in its platform. I am a populist, yes; but first of all and above all, sir, I am a white man. I made myself a populist. I was born a white man, and I am even what you would term so "prejudiced" as to be proud of it, and in the fight which is now upon us in this state, so far as I am concerned, I shall stand by my race. You and those who, with you, assume to speak for the populist party have left me no choice in this instance but to change my skin or my party affiliation. I prefer to change the latter.

Have you, Mr Butler, stopped to consider what this thing is you are asking me and the other populists to do? Do you realize the position in which you are trying to place the populist party? Pray, sir, how far do you expect us to follow you? By what right do you ask me that I betray my principles and race at the same time? I believe in the free coinage of silver. You ask me to cooperate with a party that is even now riveting the gold standard on the country. I am opposed to trusts. You ask me to join in with a party that fosters and fathers them. I believe in a white man's government. You ask me to vote with negroes and for negroes. You even go further and ask my active support against a measure intended to make negro domination hereafter impossible.

What good, sir, can come to my state, my party, myself or my family from such perfidious course? I think you have misunderstood the character and the temper of the men who compose the Populist party, in assuming that they lack in that pride of blood which makes the white man everywhere cleave to his kind.

I believe that the self-respecting populist will resent as an insult this attempt of yours to persuade him that it is not necessary to transmit to his offspring undiminished the prestige that came to him from his forefathers.

You ask for the "names and postoffice addresses of six active and reliable populists" in my township who can be relied on to assist in other ways later. In what way do you expect these populists to assist later"? Do you think to make them parties to your plan to "whip out of the state" the men who are determined at any hazard to preserve its civilization? I trust there are no such populists in my township. I feel sure that a half dozen cannot be found who will be parties to any scheme to perpetuate the danger of negro domination in this state by a resort to violence. If such be your purpose I warn you that it cannot succeed. You may stir up bitterness and incite to bloodshed, but as a populist I warn you that self-respecting populists will not follow you in this matter.

I cannot forbear, sir, finally to point out to you how you have warped the populist party from its original purposes; how you have betrayed its principles and sold its opportunities for a song; how under your leadership what was once a mighty army 40,000 strong, has dwindled to a fourth of that number of discouraged and disheartened followers to whom you are leaving no alternative save to give up their party or to become accomplices with you in the basest attempt against the peace, happiness, prosperity and civilization of the commonwealth that has ever been made in its history.

Speaking for myself, my choice is made. I'll have none of it.

Very truly yours,
J. J. Marshall.

LONDON FOR TREASURER.

The Newspapers Have a Candidate This Year.

The Sunday edition of the News & Observer contains an excellent picture of Maj Henry A. London, editor of the Chatham Record, whom many of the newspapers are urging for the democratic nomination for State Treasurer. Accompanying the cut the News and Observer prints the following editorial from the Newbern Journal:

"The announcement through the press of North Carolina that it has a candidate for a high and important public office, one which calls for a man of character, known integrity and capacity, may seem presumptious and perhaps irregular to those who ever look upon the newspaper editor as one who works for a scanty living in this world and receives his reward in the next.

"At this time when nomination for office is not so far removed from the success of attaining the office, as seems most probable at the next election, the press of the state regard the situation as one demanding recognition at the hands of the leaders and the voters generally, therefore seek to put forward a candidate.

"So in this year of 1900, the press, always an advocate of good government, of good party morals, the supporter of honest men for public trusts, feels that the time has arrived for naming one of its many qualified editors for a position of public honor and trust.

"The editor thus named, whose nomination is sought as the next State convention is Henry A London of the Chatham Record, Chatham county, and the office is State treasure.

"The guarantee of Mr. London's merits and qualifications, is not merely to be found in the columns of the state press, which advocate his candidacy, today, but is to be found in his record which he has made during the past many years, in his personal integrity of character, his demand for the public welfare and advancement by pen and word, and in his general reputation as a citizen of this commonwealth.

The state press puts forward Mr. London as a candidate in full confidence of him as a worthy representative of North Carolina's newspaperdom, and as a man capable of filling in every particular the demands which may be made upon him as state treasurer.

"In honoring Mr. London by nomination and election to this office of public trust, the people of North Carolina could show no greater appreciation of their editors, for in Henry A. London's nomination and election will be exhibited the good will and confidence that the people have for the press, which has ever stood firm to maintain the rights and privileges of all the people, at all times, in the Old North State."

SENATOR BUTLER SAW BRYAN

While in Washington on His Way South.

DISCUSSED THE RALEIGH VISIT,

The Report of Senator Allen's Visit to North Carolina—He Will Not Speak on the Amendment.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, Feb 12—Hon. Wm. J. Bryan returned to Washington Saturday from his eastern tour and registered at the Metropolitan Hotel, which is the Colonel's usual stopping place when in Washington. For several hours Saturday Col. Bryan was in consultation with democratic leaders, much of the time being given to various southern members of congress who desire him to visit their states on his trip south. The date of the holding of the democratic national convention was also discussed, and while the opinion is quite general that the national committee will select the last week in June, many of the gentlemen who were in conference with Mr. Bryan express the belief that the date will be selected so that the convertion may be held before the republican national convention at Philadelphia The matter of the selection of the date will depend largely upon the will of Col. Bryan, who is the only avowed candidate for the democratic nomination for the presidency this year.

Mr. Bryan left Washington Sunday night for Richmond, Va., where he is booked to deliver an address today before the Virginia legislature, which meeting will be held at the Academy of Music. This meeting will be attended by most of the Virginia delegation in congress. After his speech at Richmond he will go to North Carolina, and will speak at Raleigh. From North Carolina his itinerary will take him to Jacksonville, Fla., Tampa, and Pulatka, the home of Congressman Davis. Before returning north Mr. Bryan will address meetings in Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama.

Among the callers received by Col Bryan were Senators Martin, of Virginia, Butler, of North Carolina, Money, of Mississippi, Jones, of Arkansas, and Representatives Davis, of Florida, Stark, of Nebraska, Caldwell, of Illinois, and others.

Sunday night Colonel Bryan was the guest at a dinner given at the Ebbitt Hotel by Representative Caldwell at which with one exception, the entire democratic delegation from Illinois were present.

Senator Allen, of Nebraska, was seen the other day, and questioned as to the reports that he would visit North Carolina during the pending campaign for the adoption of the constitutional amendment, at the instance of Senator Butler, and speak in opposition to the amendment. While Senator Allen would not discuss the subject of North Carolina politics for publication, he said enough to leave no doubt but that there is nothing in the story. It is not believed that Allen will speak during the campaign in North Carolina against the proposed amendment.

Senator Butler will occupy the floor of the Senate this afternoon in opposition of the republican financial bill which is now pending in the Senate. He will take the floor immediately after senator Walcot, of Cororado addresses the senate on the same subject

Senator Butler, as stated in another paragraph visited Col. Bryan while the latter was in Washington, but the senator stated that the only matter discussed between them was the colonel's visit to Raleigh. Senator Butler will be in Raleigh at the time colonel Bryan is at the State Capital, and will attend the meeting which the colonel will address.

New postoffice has been established at Lickens, Franklin county, North Carolina.

The name of Richard postoffice, Chatham county, has been changed to Bear Creek.

Benjamin F. Edmundson has been commissioned postmaster at Lindell, North Carolina.

Among those attending the meeting of the Woman's Suffrage Association in this city, is Helen Morris Lewis, one of the workers of the cause from North Carolina.

Mr. C. J. Harris, of Asheville, North Carolina, is registered at the Gordon Hotel. He will be in Washington for several days.

Manila, Feb. 12—A number of ex-insurgent officials who have arrived here, report that General Pinar Rio Del Pilar died of fever in the Moron mountains. After his death the leaders had a meeting in which it was recognized that it was futile to offer further resistence to the Americans. Therefore it was decided to disband the forces, which are now wandering about in small gangs among the hills.

IN DEFENSE OF GOEBEL.

He Was Misunderstood, Misjudged and Underestimated.

To the editor of the Observer:

From the time of Mr. Goebel's nomination for governor of Kentucky up to the day of his death, it seems to me, and has all along seemed to me, that he was not accorded that charity of opinion due particularly from the democratic press. I do not pretend to know as much of the affairs which have filled the last six months of his career with strife as others know, but I have read some things between the lines and have drawn some conclusions, whether right or wrong, which I submit. Mr. Goebel evidently had a great fight on his hands from the very first—a fight which was to be to the death. What was the nature of that fight? It was, as all concede, a fight within his party against the railroads and corporations which had controlled it. These made common cause with the republicans against his election. It was a bitter fight, into which the railroads put all the venom they could command (and nobody with sense these days doubts the power of railroads to make a particularly thorny path for those who oppose them) Through all this fight Mr Goebel was without the support of the independent democratic journals outside of Kentucky, as well as in it in part.

The word went out that he was a rascal, and our own best journals admitted it by implication at least; and yet there is nothing to show that there was any foundation for it beyond the common abuse which every able political leader has to encounter on the threshold of his career. It was said that he was an unhung murderer, although a bullet hole through his own clothes and the verdict of two juries exonerated him from the charge They charged him with infidelity—a charge which he refuted on his death-bed, modestly and with that absence of overstatement that would characterize a sincere, manly man.

During the campaign every possible effort was made to defeat him by what was no doubt an unholy combination of corporate greed and reckless partisanship Governor Bradley introduced the military on the day of election, a circumstance to arouse the passions of some and to freighten others Tissue ballots were unquestionably and admittedly used in the mountain districts, the republican strongholds. Meanwhile what did Goebel do to deserve the charge of rascality? Who can point to a single act of lawlessness, on his part, or the part of his supporters? The selecting of the legislative committee was challenged and when the suggestion of the republicans as to a change was made they fared worse than before. Goebel contested the election. Surely that is no crime. Let us be charitable and suppose that owing to bayonets and tissue ballots Goebel felt as sure that he was being wronged as any other man that ever contested an election. In that case, he would have wronged himself and party if he had not contested.

The power of corporations is great. They succeeded in putting a ballot in the box for every two and one-half inhabitants in Ohio in the presidential election in that state in 1896; so that while the democrats had 100,000 more votes than were ever cast for any one party in the state before, they were themselves out-voted by 50,000 majority. If it was wrong for Mr. Goebel to contest, it is equally wrong for Mr. Pearson to contest Mr. Crawford's seat; yet no republican paper has called him a rascal for doing so; nor called down imprecations on the heads of the committee of Congress that has declared him entitled to the seat Nobody doubts that he will be seated, and yet few of us expect to see as hard things said of him by democratic papers as those same papers have said of Goebel, and not a single republican paper between the oceans will ever by implication reflect upon his moral and political intergrity. Why this difference?

The cases are parallel. Pearson's party had the election machinery as did Goebel's; both were defeated on the face of the returns by almost exactly the same majority; both contest. Here the parallel ends. Crawford's supporters have not shot Pearson to death from Crawford's office or vicinity. If one or two thousand democratic mountaineers had boarded the train at the opening of congress and had gone to Washington armed with Winchesters swearing to "see justice done" Crawford, and had paraded the streets of Washington with the connivance of Mr. Crawford, and had finally assassinated Mr. Pearson on the steps of the capitol, where he was going under his lawful and constitutional right, the parallel would be complete.

But who thinks they could have done such a thing? Grover Cleveland or even William McKinley would have had every solitary man of such a mob behind the bars in two hours after he set foot in Washington. What did Cleveland do with even the quixotic Coxey and his "army?" Taylor had no desire to do such a thing. He allows the mob to enter his executive office; to try to overawe the legislative body; to camp about; to menace everybody and everything till they shoot down his competitor; then he trains his Gatlings, not on those men, and fixes his bayonets, not against their ingress and egress, but on the representatives of the people who seek to meet in the halls for the business of a sovereign state. He stops the officers bearing the mandates of the courts, and while protecting the mob declares the peaceable and law-abiding city in a state of insurrection. The work of that man Taylor (I hope I am not speaking as a partisan) for the time preceding and following Mr. Goebel's assassination has no parallel in wholesale blundering in all American history. The whole thing betokened the acts of a man without courage and without moral confidence in his position and cause. He tried to adjourn the legislature in London, a lawless republican stronghold, implored the help of a republican president and even exhibited the unconscious humor of wanting to submit his case to a commission selected by the famous resort of 1877, the supreme court of the United States

It seems to me that behind this weak man Taylor was the strong arm of the corporations, that, having hated Mr. Goebel once, hated him even unto death. Mr. Goebel was a strong man and deserved better of the press of the people, I doubt not, than he received Had he lived he would have proved himself a born leader. It is sad that his life should have thus been cut short, but it may have some value in showing the people the great enemy they have to contend with—the corporations, which winged the shaft which went to his brave heart. HOPEFUL BRITISH FEELING,

Relying on Lord Roberts and General Kitchener.

AGGRESSIVENESS OF THE BOERS

It is Thought Will Give the Britons Their Long Yearned for Opportunity to Fight.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Feb. 12—Not a line of news from South Africa has been received since yesterday. At any rate none has been published. The feeling of a more hopeful consequence is wide-spread and it is belief that Lord Roberts and General Kitchener have now a firm grip on the helm and that whatever happens the campaign will be waged by careful, comprehensive plans, in which all the forces will cooperate.

Both sides seem to be collecting themselves for an attack. The left horn of the Boer army is creeping through Zululand and threatening the British right at Chievely. General Joubert, it is reported, with six thousand men, is endeavoring to attack General Buller.

Boer aggressiveness has been developed and repulsed at Rensburg, while from the most important point in the campaign, Modder river, the news has been received of ceaseless activity and red ubied vigilance.

These reports create a hopefulness in Great Britain rather than anxiety, for the impression prevails that the Boer aggressiveness will give the British troops their long yearned for opportunity and tend greatly to assist in the broad plan of campaign which Lord Roberts is expected to put in motion soon at Modder river.

GREAT BATTLE PENDING.

Modder River, Feb. 11—Unless all indications are deceptive, one of the greatest battles of the war is about to be fought near here. The British are gathering here in force under the personal command of Lord Roberts. They include the army of General Methuen and large reinforcements from Cape Colony. The British plan seems to be to make a descent upon Blumfontein. The Boers are sending every available man in the direction of Kimberley.

Twelve hundred whites, loyal to the British, have left Barkley for the west, owing to the destruction of their property by the colonial Dutch residents The Boers had made no attack on them.

Lord Roberts has promised the press correspondents that they will be allowed complete freedom of action in sending their reports.

IN KENTUCKY.

The Situation Fraught With Knotty Problems.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Frankfort, Feb. 12—Governor Taylor has sent almost all the militia home, but has retained a sufficient number to quell disorder. Today will decide for him the policy he will pursue in prosecuting the fight to retain his seat Judge Taft this afternoon will hear the application of republican counsel for injunctions in the minor state officers' contests. If the injunctions are granted Taylor's lawyers will immediately file an application for a federal injunction restraining the Beckham legislature and the state courts from interfering with Taylor in any way so far as the office of governor is concerned.

In the event the application today is refused, then Taylor, it is asserted, has only one way of redress open, and that is through revolution.

It is conceded by the democrats that Beckham's title to the governorship will not stand unless the legislature, in joint and in separate sessions had at the state house, ratify the action of the democratic members at the secret session in the hotel. They do not assert that Goebel, before his death, was legally governor.

Taylor has called the legislature together at Frankfort. If the democrats meet there they will recognize Taylor as Governor. This is another question they find themselves confronted with The situation seems to be no clearer than it was a week ago. Taylor is undoubtedly backed by his party to a man.

Reconciliation

is what the good people of Kentucky should strive for. But the present attitude of the Democrats and Republicans makes it look like war.

BRYAN AND BUTLER.

A despatch from Washington under date of Saturday, Feb. 10, says:

"Hon. Wm. J. Bryan arrived in Washington today, on his way south, after his visit to the New England and Middle States. He was at the capitol during the afternoon and saw Senator Martin, of Virginia, and Senator Butler, of North Carolina, concerning his proposed visit to the former state Monday and the latter Tuesday. After leaving North Carolina, he expects to visit several other of the southern states."

It is alright that Mr. Bryan arrived in Washington and that he saw Senator Martin with reference to his visit to Richmond. Martin is a democrat. But what we object to is that he saw Senator Butler concerning his proposed visit to North Carolina. Butler is a renegade and a traitor and is in particularly bad odor so far as the democratic party of North Carolina is concerned. This state is not represented now in the United States senate, and Mr. Bryan should have seen Senator Morgan, of Alabama, or Congressman Kitchin or one of the other democratic representatives from North Carolina.

Many people who attend the speaking in Raleigh tomorrow will look at Mr. Bryan with a degree of suspicion and apprehension after the announcement that he "saw Butler concerning his proposed visit to this state."

In North Carolina there is now a fight pending which means ten-fold more to the state than the election of Mr. Bryan to the presidency or the election of any other man to that high office whether he be democrat or republican; and Butler is a leading member of our common enemy. We want good clean, government in North Carolina and Butler is writing letters to white people urging them to aid him in his dirty work of trying to defeat the constitutional amendment. Bryan did a sorry piece of business in seeing him.

Mr. R. F. Beasley, recently elected editor of the Telegram, is expected to arrive in the city in a day or two, and will probably enter upon his duties the latter part of the week.

If there is a man who believes in Governor Russell's honesty, that man will not wonder that Russell thinks his party is making a mistake in opposing the amendment. Even a man with Russell's viciousness would hardly think a "savage" capable of exercising the right of suffrage.

"J. A. H.," of Oak Ridge, in a well written article in the Sunday Charlotte Observer, turns the calcium light upon the life and death of Governor Goebel, of Kentucky. The writer says he was a true champion of the common people, and that he was misjudged and underestimated by the public and the press. We copy the letter in this issue and call your attention to it as interesting reading.

The democratic press of North Carolina should unite on H. A. London for state treasurer. There are other deserving and capable men wanting the place, but it is high time the newspapers were getting recognition. They are entitled to it by virtue of hard work and loyalty and poor pay. Bro. London is a worthy representative of newspaperdom in this state, and for integrity, fitness and ability on the stump he is the peer of anybody. Get together on London, and let's nominate him.

The statement of Governor Russell (rep.) that his party is making a mistake to fight the constitutional amendment; also the statement of Rev. Baylus Cade (pop.), private secretary to the governor, on the same subject, sound a good deal like some of the statements Brer Fox made to Brer Rabbit, when the former was jealous of the latter and was continually trying to lure him into trouble. Democrats will not lay down and go to sleep under any statement made by these two men, or others of their class. No tar baby affair for us.

RUSSELL ON THE AMENDMENT.

He Thinks His Party is Making a Mistake.

Some weeks ago Gov. Russell was invited to speak next Monday night at the Marquette Club in Chicago. The occasion was the celebration of Lincoln's birthday, and the governor accepted.

As found, however, that he could not go to Chicago at this time and so he delegated Mr. J. C. L. Harris to represent him. Accordingly Mr. Harris left yesterday morning for Chicago, and on Monday night, at the banquet, he will read the speech prepared by the governor for the occasion

The subject of this speech is "Republicanism in the South," and it will deal with political conditions here as affected by industrial progress and the race question.

He will refer to the rapid strides the south has made since the war, pointing with especial pride to the phenomenal growth of manufacturing, especially cotton milling in this section. With this industrial change, he will say, there has come a great political change; that the south has become a protection and sound money centre; that many people will vote for Bryan, but pray for McKinley's election

The case of this, he says, is to be found in that greatest and strongest of feelings—race prejudice; that but for the negro the south would be solid republican instead of solid democratic, as now. The fatal error of his party in this section, the governor will declare, has been to allow the democrats to choose the issue and make the fight on their own grounds.

And in this connection he will incidentially refer to the constitutional amandment fight now going on in this state. He will argue that his party is making a mistake to fight it, that it is the old race question in a new but more virulent form—the favorite issue of the democratic party, and an issue upon which the democrats have never failed to win.

The republicans of North Carolina, he will declare, would be wise to leave the amendment question alone: make no party issue of it and let every man vote on it as he might personally think proper.—News and Observer (Sunday).

AL and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Iowa, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. SALT RHEUM CURED BY Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

JUST SEEN IN TIME.

Slight Skin Eruptions are a Warning of Something More Serious to Come. The Only Safe Way is to Heed the Warning. Johnston's Sarsaparilla is the Most Powerful Blood Purifier Known.

Nature, in her efforts to correct mistakes, which mistakes have come from careless living, or it may be from ancestors, shoots out pimples, blotches and other imperfections on the skin, as a warning that more serious troubles (perhaps tumors, cancers, erysipelas or pulmonary diseases) are certain to follow if you neglect to heed the warning and correct the mistakes.

Many a lingering, painful disease and many an early death has been avoided simply because these notes of warning have been heeded and the blood kept pure by a right use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA.

Miss Abbie J. Rande, of Marshall, Mich., writes:

"I was cured of a bad humor after suffering with it for five years. The doctors and my friends said it was salt rheum. It came out on my head, neck and ears, and then on my whole body. I was perfectly raw with it. What I suffered during those five years, is no use telling. Nobody would believe me if I did. I tried every medicine that was advertised to cure it. I spent money enough to buy a house. I heard JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA highly praised. I tried a bottle of it. I began to improve right away, and when I had finished the third bottle I was completely cured. I have never had a touch of it since. I never got any thing to do me the least good till I tried JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. I would heartily advise all who are suffering from humors or skin disease of any kind to try it at once. I had also a good deal of stomach trouble, and was run down and miserable, but JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA made me all right."

The blood is your life and if you keep it pure and strong you can positively resist disease or face contagion fearlessly. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA never fails. It is for sale by all druggists, in full quart bottles at only one dollar each.

For the Babies.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucous, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. A Very Bad Bargain.

That figures are sometimes wonderful things is illustrated by the following actual occurrence in a nearby college town a number of years ago: A student in the university was a member of an eating club of 12 members which regularly patronized a certain little hostelry. He was lucky enough one day to become the recipient of a legacy amounting to about $1,000, and, showing the sum to the hotel keeper, agreed to give it to him on condition that the sum be accepted as payment for meals eaten by the students until every possible combination of the seating arrangements of the boys had been exhausted, the order of seats occupied by the boys to be changed at each meal.

The hotel keeper thought it a most profitable deal, but a friend of his with a mathematical turn proved to him that it really would mean ruin, as no less than 479,001,600 arrangements were possible, or a total of $5,748,019,200 individual meals, which, at the rate of 10 cents per meal, would represent a value of the tidy sum of $547,801,920. The contract was carried out for the four years of the boys' student life, when it really drove the hotel man from business, as reckoned on a basis of $3 per week per student the hotel man had lost $3,992, while the students had only eaten 52,416 individual meals and had still a credit of 5,748,966,784 meals, or enough to give them three meals a day for 438,718¼ years.—Philadelphia Record.

An Odd Coincidence.

In one of the historical volumes of John F. Magginness is recounted a most remarkable coincidence. On the very day that the Declaration of Independence was promulgated and old Liberty bell proclaimed the joyful news in Philadelphia a little band of Scotch-Irish settlers, without any knowledge, of course, of what was occurring elsewhere, assembled at a certain place on the banks of Pine creek, about 14 miles above where now stands the city of Williamsport, and declared themselves free from the yoke of British rule.

One Minute Cough Cure, cures. That is what it was made for.

The best of women may be the worst of sufferers. Disease is no respecter of persons. The regular periodical suffering of many women is calculated as aggregating ten years of the thirty between fifteen and forty-five. Such a tax of pain and time is utterly unnecessary.

In all cases the sufferings of women due to irregularity and like causes may be alleviated, and in most cases they may be completely cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This wonderful medicine is not a cure-all, but a specific remedy for diseases affecting the delicate womanly organs. It cures, completely, irregularity, ulceration, inflammation and female weakness and gives the enfeebled organs health and vigor.

Mrs. W. J. Kidder, of Hill Dale Farm, (Enosburg Center), Enosburg, Vt., writes: "I cheerfully send you the following testimonial of the great relief your kindly advice and medicines brought me. During the past year I found I was with child and in rapidly failing health. I suffered dreadfully from bloating and urinary difficulty. I was growing perceptibly weaker each day and suffered much sharp pain at times. I felt that something must be done. I sought your advice and received a prompt reply. I followed your directions and took twelve bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and also followed your instructions. I began to improve immediately, my health became excellent, and I could do all my own work (we live on a good sized farm). I walked and rode all I could, and enjoyed it. I had a short, easy confinement and have a healthy baby boy."

What Tesla Selected.

Thomas Edison used to have Nikola Tesla working for him in his studio near Paris. Tesla came to him one day asking for work, and Edison, who needed help, referred him to the foreman, named Fulton. The latter took the young foreigner on condition that he would work. This Tesla did. For three days and nights he never closed his eyes. At the end of the first fortnight he had not had 48 hours' sleep all together, and Fulton, the foreman, made him take a rest. He also said to the young man that on account of the strain they had both been under they had better have a good meal.

Accordingly the foreman and the student went to a well known cafe on one of the boulevards and got one of the biggest and thickest steaks possible. It was a whopper and seemed to be overwhelming for two. Besides, the garnishings were liberal, and there was enough good wine. Between them, however, they managed to make everything disappear, and then Fulton, turning to Tesla, asked him if there was anything else he would like. "You're out with me, you know, and whatever you want just order it."

Tesla looked vaguely around for a minute, as if making up his mind, and then hesitatingly said, "Mr. Fulton, if you don't mind I would like another steak."—San Francisco Argonaut.

His Mistake as to American Girls.

A Louisville girl who was recently in Germany met a young English officer who was in the same city, and, in fact, in the same house with her for two months, studying German for his promotion. Like most Europeans, he had the usual absurd ideas about the girls of this country, who, in the minds of the untraveled foreigner, are rather boyden creatures, who smoke and have other masculine traits.

After dinner one day in the early acquaintanceship of the couple the officer offered the Louisville girl a cigarette, and upon her refusing it he said: "Why, I thought all the girls in the United States smoked."

"So we do," replied the girl, "but never cigarettes, only pipes. If you will get that pipe off the mantelpiece in the next room I shall be charmed to smoke with you."

Not suspecting the joke she was playing on him, the officer brought the pipe and filled it, and it was not until he saw the wry faces his friend made in attempting to carry out the joke that he appreciated the situation. He was continually telling the American in a tone of surprise that she was just like the girls at home in England, and her rejoinder was:

"Lieutenant, don't you think a lady is a lady the world over?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Consumption.

Pulmonary tuberculosis is not a contagious, but only a communicable disease. The contact per se of the consumptive individual does not convey the disease. It is now well known that it is mainly the tuberculosis expectoration, which, when dried and pulverized to dust, constitutes the main danger of infection. The means to prevent infection from tuberculosis expectoration or saliva—expectorating only in proper vessels, spittoons and pocket flasks, proper use of handkerchiefs during coughing, etc.—are now also universally taught.

It is absolutely demonstrated that a tuberculosis patient, if he takes proper care of his expectoration, does not constitute any danger to his fellow men. In sanatoria and hospitals exclusively devoted to the care of consumptives it is of the rarest occurrence for an attendant to contract the disease, the hygienic precautions being so thorough. It may indeed be said that in these houses for consumptives one is less liable to contract consumption than outside of them.—Dr. S. A. Knopf in Forum.

Miss Proctor's Mistake.

Miss Mary Proctor, the astronomer and lecturer, frequently gives her personal services toward entertaining poor children and adults. Generally her lectures are well received. Now and then there are exceptions. On one occasion a bright eyed little boy, who sat in the front row with his eyes fixed upon the speaker, was asked how he liked it. "I guess," he said, "it was pretty good, but she ought to talk about lions and tigers. That's better for everybody."

At another lecture a youngster criticised her as follows: "It's all very well to talk of weighing and measuring stars. There are some people, of course, who believe that sort of thing, but if she thinks she can fool us boys with such fairy tales she's very much mistaken."

Boomerangs Not New.

The Australian aborigines are not the only users of the boomerang, nor were they the first to use that missile. The Egyptians knew all about it, just as they seem to have known all about everything else. At the present day the boomerang is used by some American Indian tribes and by the Dravidian races of the Indian peninsula. The missile used by the last named differs in that it is thicker than the usual form and does not return to the thrower. The return of the boomerang is due to the action of the wind, the shape of the weapon and the manner in which it is thrown.

Husband—Perhaps not, but think of the expense of telegraphing to you every time I want to find anything.—Collier's Weekly.

Waiting to Be Eaten.

The wasp is not a vegetarian, like the bee, and so the wasp mother has before her the problem of supporting her young with meat. As her eggs are laid out in hot weather and as food enough must be stored in the cell with the egg to mature the young insects, the question is how to preserve the meat fresh for so long a time.

After a tube is finished except one end, which is left open, she flies off on a hunt for spiders. She finds a fat, healthy one, pounces upon it, stings it, carries it off and places it in the mud cell. She repeats this process until she has placed as many spiders in the tube as, according to her judgment, will be needed. She then lays an egg in the cell and walls up the opening.

Whether it is the result of a subtle poison or whether it is a special spot in the spider's nervous system where the sting is inserted we do not know, but certain it is that after being thus stung the spider lives on in a paralyzed condition for weeks and even months. It can move only slightly and remains helpless in its mud sepulcher until the wasp egg hatches into a voracious grub, which at once falls to and eats with great relish the meat thus miraculously preserved.

Whether the spider can feel pain in this paralyzed state is not known, but it certainly retains its sight and so watches the wasp grub growing, and a spider's natural fear of a wasp would cause ample suffering to atone for its own onslaught on flies.

Peter Cooper Met the Spirits.

During Peter Cooper's lifetime he was a frequent visitor at the home of S. J. Pardessus, on Pacific street, Brooklyn.

At one time Mr. Cooper became greatly interested in the spirit manifestations of the Fox sisters and was anxious to investigate their rappings personally, but he did not like to attend one of their public seances, for he feared recognition and consequently a great deal of talk. Finally it was arranged that one of the sisters should spend a night at Mr. Pardessus' house and the doughty Peter be invited to meet her.

Miss Fox came, and the spirits came too. The family retired early, Mr. Cooper occupying a bedroom on the opposite side of the hall from that of the fair ally of the supernatural. He was just settling himself comfortably for "a long winter's nap" when a rapping began on the headboard of his bed which sent shivers to his very marrow. It was only the beginning of a "rat, tat, tat," that kept up at intervals during the night in all parts of the room, and before daylight came Mr. Cooper had listened to enough spirits to last him a lifetime. He never said much about the experience, but he never asked to have it repeated.—New York Mail and Express.

Don't Give Up the Ship.

Somewhat more than 50 years ago it happened to me to meet at the house of a mutual friend a daughter of the late Major Benjamin Russell, for many years editor of the Boston Centinel. She was a bright, interesting woman and a brilliant raconteur, and she told me a number of anecdotes of her father, who was a strongly individualized and notable character for a good many years. Among them was the following:

The battle between the Chesapeake and the Shannon took place just off the Massachusetts coast, and a sailor in some way got ashore and hurried to Boston with the news. It was in the night, and he went straight to The Centinel office, where he found Major Russell, to whom he told the story, including the death of Lawrence.

"What were his last words?" said the major.

"Don't know," said the man.

"Didn't he say, 'Don't give up the ship?'"

"Don't know," said the man.

"Oh, he did!" said the major. "I'll make him say it." And he did—so much for history.—Hartford Courant.

The Effect of His Face.

An amusing story is told at the expense of Winston Churchill, the author. An old man, seeing the picture of Churchill displayed in the window of a Baltimore bookseller, inquired of a bystander whom it represented.

"Winston Churchill," was the reply.

"Where does he preach?"

Being told that Mr. Churchill was not a preacher, he asked: "Ain't he? What did you say his name is?"

"Winston Churchill. He writes novels."

"Does what?"

"Writes novels."

The man shook his head with a look of pity and declared: "Too bad! Too bad! He has a good face."

At the Examination.

Teacher (to little Isidor, who is very poor at fractions)—If I need 3½ yards of cloth for a suit and the cloth costs 2¾ gulden a yard, what will the suit cost?

Isidor—To begin with, teacher, 3 yards would be enough for a suit, and you could get it at our store for 2 gulden. The suit would cost you 6 gulden.—Fliegende Blatter.

"Something Hot."

D'Orsay was at a dinner at Disraeli's, which was not of a kind to suit the fashionable gourmet and where everything had been cold. At the end of dinner there was brought in some half melted ice in a dish. "Thank heaven!" said D'Orsay. "At last we have got something hot."—Sir Algernon West's Recollections.

Schoolboy—Please, sir, it's when the doctor gives the wrong stuff to people who are sick.—Boston Christian Register.

Early French Theaters.

The French theater owes its origin to the religious exhibitions given by the pilgrims on their return from Palestine. At these exhibitions the pilgrims gave an account of the Holy Land and recited their own adventures. They were afterward imitated by those who had never been to the Holy Land. To these succeeded dramatic representations of subjects taken from the new text, which, being forbidden by the provost of Paris, the priests of France invited the king to be present at an exhibition to prove that they were calculated to excite religious feelings.

The building in which those plays were produced was divided into three scaffoldings—the highest represented paradise, the second the world and the lowest, which was in the form of a dragon's head, represented hell. The only entrance to the two upper scaffoldings was through the dragon's head.

The actors never left the stage, even to change their dress, and the plays were so long as to require several days for their completion. At the close of each evening the audience was invited to return until the whole were finished, sometimes 40 nights.

The Power of a Cyclone.

Careful estimates of the force of a cyclone and the energy required to keep a full fledged hurricane in active operation reveal the presence of a power that makes the mightiest efforts of man appear as nothing in comparison.

A force fully equal to 478,000,000 horsepower was estimated as developed in a West Indian cyclone. This is about 15 times the power that is creatable by all the means within the range of man's capabilities during the same time.

Were steam, water, windmills and the strength of all men and all animals combined they could not at all approach the tremendous force exerted by this terrible storm.

A Barnum Surprise.

A good story of the late George Augustus Sala and Barnum is told. It was on the occasion of the last visit of the famous showman to England, when a public dinner was tendered to Mr Barnum Mr Sala presided. In the reception room, where all were waiting to welcome the guest of the evening, Mr Barnum came in beaming, and, shaking hands with the chairman, said

"This is indeed a surprise to me."

"Did you hear that?" Mr. Sala whispered. "Why, he arranged for the dinner himself."

A Literary Note.

"Your majesty," said the prime minister, "this is the page who has been remiss in his duty."

"Aha!" exclaimed the king. "We'll have to bring him to book."

"He! He!" laughed the page. "A noble jest. I'll be bound."

Thereupon the king's heart softened, for he marveled that a man so young could make so old a joke.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Catarrh is Not Incurable

But it can not be cured by sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures which reach only the surface. The disease is in the blood, and can only be reached through the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which can have any effect upon Catarrh; it cures the disease permanently and forever rids the system of every trace of the vile complaint.

Miss Josie Owen, of Montpelier, Ohio, writes: "I was afflicted from infancy with Catarrh, and no one can know the suffering it produces better than I. The sprays and washes prescribed by the doctors relieved me only temporarily, and though I used them constantly for ten years, the disease had a firmer hold than ever. I tried a number of blood remedies, but their mineral ingredients settled in my bones and gave me rheumatism. I was in a lamentable condition, and after exhausting all treatment, was declared incurable. Seeing S. S. S. advertised as a cure for blood diseases, I decided to try it. As soon as my system was under the effect of the medicine, I began to improve, and after taking it for two months I was cured completely, the dreadful disease was eradicated from my system, and I have had no return of it."

Many have been taking local treatment for years, and find themselves worse now than ever. A trial of will prove it to be the right remedy for Catarrh. It will cure the most obstinate case.

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

ST. LOUIS, MO., AUG. 13.

Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

MISS MARGARET WALSH.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

"This is Our Window,"

But these cravats are yours for 35c each, former price 50c, and all fine silks, is what Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees say on a very neat little card in the south window, and for a fact the neckties are beauties. If you fail to get one it will be a downright misfortune to you.

Electric Plant Blown Up.

News was received here today that the electric plant in Durham had been blown up. The news came late and particulars are lacking. It was reported that one man was killed, but later this report was denied.

Mr. B. F. White Dead.

Mr. B. F. White, of Lego, proprietor Deep River Nursery, suffered a stroke of paralysis Saturday morning, from which he died at 2:30 p. m. the same day. He was buried today at Hickory Grove M. P. church at 11 o'clock. He was the father-in-law of Mr. I. W. Sharp, of this city.

It Was Noticed.

On Saturday an error occurred in the ad of Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees. Boys' knee pants worth "50 cents to $1.50," were quoted "5 cents to $1.50." The ink had hardly dried on the paper before the firm had to confront numerous enquiries about it. Of course it was an error easily explained, but it proves that the people read advertisements. The ad writer for the above firm is one of the best in the state. He studies his business and makes advertising pay. This is a pointer.

Two Good Sermons.

The Centenary congregation (M. E. church) is blessed with a good preacher, Rev. T.E. Wagg. He feeds his flock at every service. Despite the disagreeable weather good-sized congregations heard him at the two services on yesterday and went away feeling that it was good to be there. Mr. Wagg's sermons are always clear cut and decidedly to the point, but those yesterday were, if possible, unusually so, interesting and helpful in subject matter, and pleasing in forceful and graceful delivery. This good man is growing with his people.

EVILS OF MORMONISM.

Call For a Plan to Rid the Country of the Doctrine.

The following interesting letter on the evils of Mormonism appeared in the Morning Post of Sunday:

The fact that Mormons are invading so many states is really alarming to many of us who are of the opinion that though this is a country of pronounced "religious liberty," still certain so-called religions should be confined to certain sections where it first had birth.

Is it to be tolerated that because Utah wanted to become a state, and that to be admitted to the Union required the abolishment (?) of polygamy, that those advocates of such a pernicious doctrine should be allowed to scatter themselves, anywhere they wished to go, to build churches and hold conventions, and instill the doctrine of Brigham Young into the minds of the illiterate and ignorant?

It is said that the state authorities have no right to drive these elders out of her borders. If that be true, then let the people in whose communities these men are working drive them out. The people on the eastern coast of North Carolina made things so hot for the Lynchites—the followers of the fanatic Joe Lynch—a few years ago that the state was finally rid of such a vile festering crowd. Let such action be taken that these Mormons will be forced to leave the state and not allow them to cast a slur on her name.

Right here in the capital city these men are permitted to hold their meetings, and to dispute in print, statements made in the pulpits by ministers of the gospel; and boast that in Raleigh they have made converts.

Such items as the following taken from state papers are sometimes seen, but what good will such items do if not acted upon:

"The Mormons have become pretty bold when they will enter a protestan church and challenge the pastor to a joint discussion, as did two at St. Andrews the other Sunday when Rev. McLeod had finished his sermon on Mormonism. Next thing you'll hear of them asking the ministers of protestant churches if they can preach in their pulpits. The People can 'freeze out the Mormons if they'll only refuse to entertain them in their homes."

"Mormonism flourishes in the Carolinias and Georgia, and other parts of the south. It ought to be extirpated, for it is a positive, unmingled curse to the ignorant. None but the ignorant or vicious will ever take up with such a travesty upon religion.

If these men can, as they say, make so many converts among the ignorant and illiterate where are the missionaries? Why do we pay thousands of dollars to send missionaries to foreign countries, when so much less could be so profitably used right here in our own midst to teach these ignorant people the doctrine of Christ?

The election of Roberts to the United States Congress by the people of Utah seems to me a direct insult to the government and Congress has made a record for itself in not allowing him to take his seat. The plea of many that he was not practicing polygamy now, and that he could not be expected to discard entirely wife (?) No. 2, and No. 3 did not hold good. Why should any compassion be shown a woman who consented to be No. 2 or 3, and indeed why and how should we countenance a woman, who as No. 1, tacitly permits the existence of even a No. 2. Many there are who have to realize the existence of such a state of affairs, but no woman can expect much sympathy who, knowing this, continues to to be No. 1. As a woman I do not approve of the divorce courts, but there are ways of more quietly drawing the line of separation than going into the public court room.

Congress has set an example of getting rid of a Mormon; let the people follow that example, and refuse these Mormons a seat in our homes; refuse them the privilege to purchase the means of livelihood, and thus force them back within the borders of their own beloved Utah, to live there, their their lives as they have one heretofore.

The Union does not own Utah, but the Mormons do. Let them have it. Some plead that there were good people there who do not believe in the doctrine and practices of Brigham Young and his followers. Let them go elsewhere; not insist upon trying to stamp out this doctrine there to settle it over dozens of other States.

Let the men of education and standing realize that the danger is growing that may yet touch their own homes. Only the illiterate now, but suppose some of our better people—men or women—should fanatically embrace this doctrine, what a howl would be raised.

Now to prevent such a possibility let us try and protect the ignorant and illiterate. Let us become missionaries now on this subject, and drive out of the state before we stop every Mormon to be found within its borders.

Is there to be found no one who will devise some means of concerted action, and side with one who is strongly and conscientiously

Anti-Mormonism.

PLANS CHANGED

More Recruits Now Wanted for Philippines.

Capt. Z. B. Vance told the Telegram this morning that he had received instructions to enlist a few more choice men for service in the Philippine Islands. The examination for Philippine duty is more strict and thorough than for Cuba and Porto Rico. Two young men who were members of the First North Carolina regiment in the war with Spain, were enlisted here this morning for the Philippines. They are Sergeant Grimm and Sergeant Bonney, of Charlotte.

Some time ago orders were received not to enlist any more men for the Philippines. Just why this order has been reversed is not stated, but it looks like preparing for a long seige over there.

Today's despatches, however, say that General Pinar Rio Del Pilar is dead and that a number of leaders recognizing the futility of further resistance, have dispanded his army, and it is not likely there will be much more fighting. Recruits are wanted, possibly for guard or garrison duty, and if you are able-bodied and in good trim, Captain Vance will be glad to see you and you may be the lucky man to get a free journey across the Pacific ocean.

Si J. C. Lewis as Plunkard.

J. C. Lewis, the Yankee character actor and a company of 20 people will hold the boards at the academy of music tomorrow night.

An exchange says: "Whenever the the name Si Plunkard is mentioned where he has been before, the dullest face becomes bright with the thought of the good-natured Yankee farmer, who has caused so many to hold their sides in laughter at his peculiarities. he is not an imaginary character, but one which you meet every day by visiting small country towns. He is not a man of education, but simply a Simon-pure Yankee farmer, whose home is always open to the weary traveler. "Si Plunkard" is not a jumble, but a well devised and exceptionally strong and interesting comedy, with a plot taken from every day life. It shows the traps and snares set for the innocent and unsophisticated public. It is a play that anyone can take a lesson from." The company carries an orchestra and band and will give a concert on the street each day, as well as a parade.

C. E. Holton, druggist, guarantees every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and will refund the money to any one who is not satisfied after using two-thirds of the contents. This is the best remedy in the world for la grippe, coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough and is pleasant and safe to take. It prevents any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

A Mother's Duty is to see to it that her children begin early in life to shampoo their heads regularly once a week. In each instance, after the hair is thoroughly dry, some mild, health-giving tonic should be applied to the scalp to aid nature in creating the best possible growth of uniformly colored, lustrous, healthy hair—the most important feature in the make-up of beautiful women and handsome men. For more than fifteen years, the has stood at the apex of all shampoo washes, while the "HAIR GROWER" has been equally successful in its efforts to return the injured scalp and almost lifeless to their original healthfulness.
